LAURA Griffiths and CLAIRE Smith:
LIfelong frineds both growing up in the working class town of Widnes, Cheshire. set in the middle of two cities internationally renowned for their music prowess Liverpool and Manchester.

Always finding a common ground in music, the girls took their early influences from artists such as alanis morissette and The Cranberries and sang for fun long before the idea of performing became a laudable one.

With the syncopation that only the best of friends can have Laura and Claire developed a unique and amazingly honed vocal harmony ability, mixing and matching a well versed octave scales with no need for a defined baritone or tenor.

Since their inception as a due in 2006 the girls have committed themselves and developed the aptitude to go from playing small showcase and college gigs in their home town to independently landing themselves gigs across various venues in Liverpool, Manchester and London.

Their next goals is to set up a string of performances across the country, opening themselves up to new audiences and building on their local fan base

In their performances Laura and Claire take their immaculate vocal harmonies and apply them to original material lined with ideal and causes that take president in their lives, they make no excuses for feeling very human things such as lust, anger and jealousy, but all of this is delivered with the pleasant juxtaposition of highly catchy and memorable acoustic pop songs.

As of November 2012 the girls are recording their new material with independent producer SonToTheRescue in the hope to turn it into their debut album.
